ABOUT THIS CHAPTER

Premium German warewashing

MEIKO's warewashing machines are made in Germany. This chapter runs from compact M-iClean and UPster undercounter glasswashers and the UPster H 500 hood-type machine to pot & utensil washers and rack-conveyor and flight-type lines that wash up to 8,930 plates an hour (M-iQ B-XL74). Each machine complies with the hygiene requirements of DIN SPEC 10534.

Sources: MEIKO cards and brochures (UPster B, M-iQ).

DAILY CARE CHECKLIST

- [ ] Pull out the wash-water filter and remove the collected dirt. On M-iClean machines every part coloured or lit in blue (such as the filter) is the part the operator may check or clean. (M-iClean U brochure)
- [ ] Put the filter and wash arms back in place; the M-iClean checks automatically that everything has been refitted correctly. (M-iClean U brochure)
- [ ] At the end of service let the machine empty its tank with the automatic self-cleaning feature (M-iClean U); FV 130.2 / FV 250.2 have an integrated self-cleaning programme that uses no extra water, and UPster U / H machines have a self-cleaning mode. (MEIKO brochures)
- [ ] Check the PF 600 removable tank sieve. (UPster PF 600 brochure)
- [ ] If the machine runs on cold water, or racks go in back-to-back, expect longer wash cycles: the machine extends them to reach a hygienic final rinse. (M-iClean U brochure)
